SPOKE ON CITIZENSHIP

Harry B. Caton Delivers Practical Address in Young People's Building Last Night.

An interesting meeting of the Laymen's League of this city was held last night in the Young People's Building. Henry K. Field, chairman of the organization, presided. Selections from the Gypsy Smith hymn book were rendered, after which Rev. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, delivered an invocation.

The feature of the evening was an address by Harry B. Caton, Police Justice of Alexandria. He spoke on "Christian Citizenship," which he handled in a practical and interesting manner. He suggested to his audience that it is the bounden duty of all citizens to act well their parts in connection with the enforcement of laws. His remarks had direct reference to the prohibition law, which will become operative during the next few days.

The speaker announced his subject as "Law Enforcement and the Duties of a Christian in Relation Thereto." At the outset he impressed upon his hearers that he did not intend to criticise any officer or set of officers, nor did he wish to excuse the failure of an officer to enforce the law, but rather to point how church people of the community could and should assist those officers who by election or appointment were clothed with the powers to enforce the law.

While in the beginning, he said, a few laws were deemed sufficient for the government of a state, the idea now prevails that every social evil can be cured by legislation. And when the law is passed the best people of a community are inclined to convince themselves that their duty ends there, instead of of realizing that their greatest duty is still before them. Clean and able law enforcing officers are necessary, but they are often helpless if the responsible element of a city refuses its encouragement and assistance. Criticism of an officer has never helped him to enforce law while encouragement and moral support has often times been most effective.

To obey law is the first civic duty of a christian citizen and he should refrain from doing those things that will cause an officer to be asked, why some people are allowed to do in the name of a social, fraternal or charitable organization those things that a man is forbidden to do for the sake of his livelihood. This question is asked and it takes a wise man to frame an answer. A second and important duty is jury service. Every man seems to think it the absolute duty of every other man to serve as juror. He should spend less time concocting a reason for being excused and more time to thinking of the good he can do in that service. If the best and most responsible men are excused by the court, who is left to perform the duty?

In conclusion the speaker said enforcement of law was impossible without conviction of violaters and conviction depended upon evidence. The best evidence is often kept out of court by fear. No better friend of the law breaker exists than the supposedly good man who has knowledge of facts yet says "I don't want to be known in it." They expect a court to unravel a fact from a mass of unreliable testimony and then are quick to condemn the court or law officer if his action in the matter does not follow the facts that he is hiding. Such a man can not honestly say he believes in enforcing law.

The ladies' of the M. E. Church served a buffett lunch, at the close of the meeting.

Another meeting will be held next week, when an out of town speaker will deliver the address.

Randolph Chapter No. 3, Knights Rose Croix, will hold a special meeting Monday evening October 23rd. at 7:30 for the purpose of conferring the 18th degree. All members and visiting brethren are cordially invited to be present. 245-4t.

IS PLANT COMING HERE?

Numbers of Strangers Seen Closely Inspecting River Front From Prince Street South.

"Coming events cast their shadows before" is an old saying, and people whose avocations keep them around the river front believe they witness procedures which augur well for Alexandria in the competition for the armor plant. It is said about the wharves that during the past three months strangers have been seen walking leisurely along the Strand and south as far as Jones's Point as though they were taking mental notes of the geography of that section of our city, or the site offered the government for the armor plant.

On last Tuesday four large automobilies filled with men passed over south Lee street. They seemed to be making minute inspection of the southeastern section of Alexandria. They failed to impart their business to any one, nor did they ask any questions.

Last week, it will be remembered, an individual of Teutonic extraction was discovered using a kodak upon that section.

It will be several weeks, probably, before the government announces its selection of a site for the eleven-million-dollar armor plant. Alexandria is believed to be in the fore rank of competitors for this plum, and those who have worked so earnestly to have it placed in our city, are hopeful, some optimistic.

CUNARDER STRIKES A MINE

Armed Munition and Passenger Steamer Sinks in English Channel.

New York, Oct. 20—The new 13,400 ton armed munition and passenger steamer Alaunia of the Cunard line, was sunk yesterday by a mine in the English Channel, between Falmouth and London.

Cable advices received in this city by Charles P. Summer, general agent of the Cunard Company, stated that Captain H. M. Benison and a majority of the crew were saved, although some still are missing.

The 243 pasengers, 185 cabin and 58 steerage, that the Alaunia carried from this port on October 7, were landed at Falmouth on Wednesday night, and probably owe their lives to that fact. The Alaunia had a cargo of 10,000 tons of war munitions, but examination of her manifest at the custom house the day she sailed revealed she had no explosives on board.

The Alaunia left New York, on the day that the U-53 arrived at Newport. Her agents considered the postponement to sailing on account of the submarine risk and the value of the liner's cargo. She sailed, however, on schedule time, and news of her safe arrival in England had been anxiously awaited here.

London, Oct. 20—The sinking by a German submarine, without previous examination of the Norwegian steamship Steun is reported by Reuter's Copenhagen correspondent. The sixteen members of the crew were landed at Christiansand.

The Swedish bark Greta Vrem was set afire by a German submarine. Eighteen men from the the bark were landed at Friedrickshafen.

The steamer Rosenvold has been sunk, according to Lloyd's dispatch, The crew was landed.

Dispatches to the State Department yesterday reported the sinking of the British steamer Kennett by a submarine and the landing of the body of her captain. The steamer Damis, presumably Norwegian, also was reported sunk by a German submarine, and the Swedish steamer Norma was reported disabled south of Drogden light vessel by her propeller becoming entangled in nets stretched by the Germans to trap submarines.

The Gazette yesterday made reference to the reappearance of a representative of the old-time Baggett firm of butchers in the city market. There is another firm, not much its junior, which has continued business in the market for many years. The firm of Helmuth Brothers has long been an Alexandria insitution. One of the progenitors of the family of butchers was in business here before the civil war. Helmuth Brothers advertise Loffler's sausage and pork products, which they are offering for sale at their stall, No. 20, City Market, also at their store, northwest corner King and Columbus streets. They always have Saturday specials in market and at their store.

The contest for the silver cup at the Masonic bazaar brings out a surprise today in the way of a new leader in the race, Mr. E. F. Ticer, who has 345 votes. L. O. WOMEN MOBBED

Suffragists Have Thrilling Experience in Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 20—President Wilson's visit to Chicago was marked by a riot, in which about 100 women, members of the National Woman's Party, were attacked, knocked down, trampled and badly used by a mob that objected to their banners advising women not to vote for Wilson because he is against woman suffrage.

The suffragists were staging a "silent protest." They were ranged around the Congress Hotel, some in automobiles and others on foot. They did not utter a word, but held up their banners. President Wilson was seated in an automobile a few hundred feet distant when the riot began, but he gave it little attention.

As the President's automobile drew up to the hotel an automobile loaded with women from the women's party headquarters also drew up. They carried a huge muslin banner, bearing the inscription: "Women voters, vote against President Wilson. He opposes national woman suffrage."

In the mob were a number of denizens from the slums who have no politics, but choose every crowd upon which to work in picking pockets and the riot afforded them a fine field in which to operate. They added fuel to the fire by hurling vulgar taunts at the suffragists and egging on the attacking forces.

Even after the suffragists had been despoiled of their banners and most of their clothing, the mob was intent upon doing them more violent bodily injury, but the police had rallied by this time and gave them protection back to their headquarters, although followed all the way by a hooting mob, yelling insults at the vanquished ones.

Hurricane Toll up to Four

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 20—Reports from hurricane swept districts of Southern Alabama increased the death toll in Wednesday's storm to four and the property damage to $100,000.

Andalusia, near the Florida line, appears to have been the chief sufferer. There many buildings were unroofed and several residences were blown down.

First reports of the damage in Mobile and Pensacola were approximately correct. The loss was confined chiefly to unroofed buildings and broken windows. There were several marine losses.

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

Rev Mr Shaw Speaks in Westminster Building Yesterday Afternoon.

The address of Rev. W. W. Shaw, before the members of the ladies' missionary society of the Second Presbyterian Church, and others in Westminster Buiding yesterday afternoon was listened to with close attention by all present. He added to the interest by exhibiting curios from the Orient, seventeen of which he had brought with him from China and India. A brass god, about two inches high, said to be one thousand years old, was especially studied. The features of the deity have been eliminated by constant touch during all these years.

Mr. Shaw's description of Buddism enlisted the attention of his hearers greatly, and his reference to Confucianism caused many to revise their opinions of the Chines philosopher, as his system did not provide for idols but was monotheistic. Buddism and Shintooism, however, were systems which embraced gods many. One of the curios was a baby god, about 4-inches high. It represented a woman with an infant in her arms. The image was placed in a cup of water and it was regarded as ever performing a miracle in this that no matter how much water was poured into the cup it never could be made to submerge the baby, but ran off at the bottom before reaching it.

The speaker, among other things, said they changed gods in China every year—that is on their new year's day, which is synonomous with our ground hog day, February 2d.

Mr. Shaw said there were decided evidences of monotheism in China. One image of a god bore no inscription, and illustrated but one personage. Others, however, portrayed many faces. He suggested that way back in the morning of the world's history Hebrews visited China and told of the one God, the Jehovah of Israel.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Richmond Woman Said to Have Identified Stranger Who Attacked Her

C. H. Gregory, motorman in the employ of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, twenty-two years old, was arrested in Richmond yesterday charged with attempting an assault on Mrs. Nellie Bannister in her home, 111 East Marshall street. Mrs. Bannister is said to have identified Gregory after his arrest. He is a married man.

According to Mrs. Bannister, Gregory came to her home early Tuesday afternoon, saying that he wished to rent a room. She assigned one to him and was summoned back a few moments later by Gregory, who asked for a pin. When she entered the room, she said, he caught hold of her wrists. She screamed and he ran away before he could be detained. Gregory was apprehended by means of the description which she furnished the police. After being locked up Gregory phoned to his wife, asking her to come to the station. He denied the charge

PRODUCERS COMBINE

Virginia and Maryland Milk Dealers Will Increase Prices.

Determined to declare a milk strike in Washington, if this course is found necessary in their campaign for what they term a "living price" for their product, farmers in the ten Maryland and Virginia counties supplying the Washington market are busy forming local associations through which they plan to control the milk supply, according to a statement, issued yesterday by Y. E. Booker, business manager of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers' Association.

The first definite steps in this direction were taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee of the association, in Washington.

"We are losing money every day we produce milk now," said one big producer at the meeting, "and with the present high prices of stock feed and supplies, we have either got to have more money or go out of business."

R. N. Haun, twenty-six years old and married, died Wednesday in Bristol as the result of having an arm and leg crushed off when the engine on which he served was side wiped by a runaway car. Engineer W. C. Cole was seriously injured. The locomotive after being deserted ran wild for two miles, with the train dispatcher sending out warnings to rains to get on side tracks. The locomotive stopped of its own accord.

WOULD BRIDGE RIVER

Railway Company Asks Permission to Span Potomac About Fifty Miles Below Alexandria

The Chamber of Commerce of Alexandria at the meeting last Monday night informally discussed the proposition to build a bridge across the Potomac river about 50 miles south of Alexandria. Most of the members were apprehensive, as it was believed the building of the bridge would place an impediment to navigation in the river. It seems that the proposition is about to crystalize, notwithsanding others outside of Alexandria are averse to placing a bridge in the Potomac.

Public hearing was had before Lieut' Col. C. A. F. Flagler, United State corps of engineers, yesterday in the custom house in Baltimore upon the application of the Potomac River and Baltimore Railway Company and the Washington-Newport News Short Line for permits for the construction of bridges across the Potomac River near Metomkin Point, Va., across the Rappahannock River, near Laytons, Va., and across the York River, near Yorktown, Va., The hearing was largely attended by people interested throughout that section of Maryland and Virginia, which will be traversed by the proposed railway company, and those appearing in opposition were the steamboat interests along the river, The hearing was begun at 10 a. m. and continued through until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Attorney Foster, representing certain shipping interests on the York River, opposed the project, as also did Mr. Callahan, of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, in so far as any request of the building of drawbridges was concerned. Representatives of the Navy Department stated that it was the desire of the department to have the road constructed, and a letter was presented from Secretary Daniels strongly indorsing the proposition.

The action of Congress has not yet been obtained for the Potomac River bridge, and the inclusion of this bridge in the hearing is merely for the information of the War Department. Construction of the other bridges is covered by existing State law.

On behalf of the railway interests, arguments in favor of the permits being granted were made by Frank S. Gannon, president of the road; Wilton J. Lambert, attorney, and many residents of the different sections through which the road passes. At the conclusion of the hearing decision was reserved by the board. The proposed plan will enable passengers to make the trip from Washington to Norfolk in four hours, whereas it now takes eight hours.

Alleging that her consent to the marriage ceremony was procured through false threat of the liability of her father for $5,000 for some action of hers and which afterward proved to be unfounded, Ruth Olive Rose, yesterday petitioned the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to annul her marriage to Francis S. Rose. She tells the court that on April 3, of this year she went to Alexandria, with Francis Rose and was married to him. She says that she was only 18 years of age, and that he was under 21

Mrs. Rose further says that they returned to Washington, and went to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carter. He immediately instituted a system of cruelty, she says. She asks that the marriage be annulled and she be permitted to resume her maiden name, Ruth Olive Carter.

ANOTHER QUARANTINE?

Virginia State Board of Health Alarmed Over Paralysis Situation in Baltimore

Unless infantile paralysis declines in Maryland very soon, the State Board of Health is apprehensive that the State will have to be included in the area against which Virginia has established partial quarantine.

Health Commissioner Williams, of Richmond, is in daily communication with the health authorities of Maryland, is receiving regular reports of new cases and is hoping that the situation in that State will improve. In case it does, drastic action may not be necessary and the present quarantine may be raised at no distant date.

Discussing the general outlook, Dr. Williams made the following statement: "The original epidemic in New York appears to have practically run its course but some of the epidemics that probably had their origin in New York are still active. We have watched these carefully and have modified the quarantine as our experience justified, but we do not feel that all danger is past by any means. The most hopeful aspect of the situation is that the disease seems to abate or at least to lose some of its epidemic form when cold weather comes on. This may merely mean that trouble is postponed until next summer, in which case immediate action will be necessary.

"The United States Public Health Service recently published the returns for infantile paralysis during September in all the States. Virginia had fewer cases by far than any other State on the Atlantic seaboard, with the possible exception of North Carolina, which did not file a report. Inasmuch as Virginia has the most stringent quarantine of any of these States, it is reasonable to suppose, that quarantine has been responsible for at least a part of our relative immunity. It is the one weapon we have employed that some other states have neglected and it can hardly be a coincidence that our morbidity was so low. The board cannot afford not to read its warnings from this situation and would be recreant in its duty if it took chances.

"The board will dislike having to quarantine against Maryland, but if the situation in Maryland does not improve, we must take those precautions which our experience leads us to believe have protected us from the disease as it has appeared in other states."

BATTLE PRAYER UPHELD.

Petition For Army and Navy Is Adopted by Episcopal Deputies Despite Opposition.

St. Louis, Oct. 20 — Militarist clashed with pacifist in a debate on prayer in the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal General Convention here yesterday.

The issue, which arose over the proposal of the commission on the enrichment of the Book of Common Prayer to add prayers for the army and navy, divided the body into two factions.

The prayer upon which most of the discussion was based, which was finally adopted, was recommended by the commission. It asked the "Lord God of Hosts—to strengthen and protect the soldiers of our country; support them in the day of battle, and in time of peace keep them safe from evil."

It also pleaded that "in all things they may serve without reproach." A similar prayer suggested by the commission for the navy also was adopted.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

The address of Harry B. Caton, Police Justice of Alexandria, before the Laymen's League and others in the Young People's Building last night was all that had been anticipated. He had selected a subject which he could handle with effect, he having occupied a position during the past twelve years or more which has enabled him to become a close observer. His theme was "Christian Citizenship," in which he showed the duty of every man in a community. Many years ago a passenger train was derailed as it was leaving Alexandria. The accident was caused by a misplaced switch. A railroad employee had left it open. A newspaper man had appeared upon the scene and was questioning the conductor of the ill-fated train. The latter, a thoughtful man, among other things said: "Successful railroading depends upon every man doing his duty." The same may be said regarding a community. If people want laws enforced, they should act as auxiliaries to the powers that be; if they know anything material concerning cases they should appear before the Police Court and aid the presiding justice in arriving at equitable conclusions. This Mr. Caton enjoined upon his hearers.

Unfortunately, however, many otherwise good citizens endeavor to avoid this, and often the judge makes mistakes of the head, not of the heart.

Those who preside in a police court know the difficulty often experienced in attempting to unravel cases or to analyze evidence. Many incidents could be recited of issues which would have been clear as the mid-day sun had the justice received the support due him while cases were being investigated. Some persons know much after a case has been closed, but are forgetful and in the "don't remember" attitude while upon the stand.

Another large class pretend to see much that is going on until they reach the stand, when they suddenly suffer from blindness or aphasia, and sometimes both.

Police Justices are human. They carry no X-rays, nor do they show the wisdom of Solomon in determining the true mother of the child, or sagacity of Sancho Panza upon the throne of Barataria, when he demonstrated that the country woman who had accused the butcher had framed up a baseless case. The Police Justice realizes that he wields a great power. He can deprive persons of liberty by his ruling. He is liable to impose sentences which work hardship upon those who deserve a better fate. Most of such miscarriages of justice could be avoided if every citizen realized his duty toward those invested with the dispensation of justice.

POOR AMONG US ALWAYS

The members of the Co-operative Charities of Alexandria are again becoming anxious, as is generally the case when winter is drawing near. They are burdened with great responsibilities which are being augmented all the time. They request that all persons who have anything in the way of cast-off clothing, etc., to send the same to Lee Camp Hall, from which place such will be judiciously distributed to those who through no fault of their own are destitute and helpless.

As stated above, this honored association is anxious. Prices of the necessaries of life are forging ahead all the time, and it requires about all the great majority can make to meet their personal requirements; yet there is an element among us, and always will be, who are dependent upon others for sustenance. That they are entitled to some of our abundance cannot be gainsaid nor resisted. The good people of the city have always heeded the appeals of the Co-operative Charities, and we feel sure that there will be prompt responses to their present suggestion.

The poor of Alexandria have for many years received from the City Council as well as from private citizens donations through the members of this organization. It is composed of our best representative people, who make personal investigations of every appeal made by the indigent. Hence there is but little likelihood of any one obtaining aid unworthily.

But there is much that will be needed in the near future besides cast-off clothing. The bleak winds will soon be shrieking around all our homes. While most of the community can keep the frost king out, some cannot unless aided by those who have been blest with an abundance.

DEBATE OVER PRAYER

There was a ripple in the House of Deputies in the Protestant Episcopal General Convention in St. Louis yesterday. The waters were troubled when an invocation was proposed for the Book of Common Prayer providing for supplications for the army and navy.

It asked the "Lord God of Hosts —to strengthen and protect the soldiers of our country; support them in the day of battle, and in time of peace keep them safe from evil."

It also pleaded that "in all things they may serve without reproach." It was adopted as was also a similar prayer suggested by the commission for the navy.

"The prayer is without sense", said one speaker. "It asks for things that cannot possibly be granted. It is impossible for soldiers to serve without reproach, as the prayer asks. We are asking God to grant something entirely without meaning, for war cannot be waged without reproach."

Common instincts are said to animate all soldiers, and the above reminds us of an incident. Many years ago a son of Mars, was in the Police Court of Alexandria, to answer the charge of larceny. During the trial a witness observed that some soldiers would steal. An old graybeard who had followed the fortunes of the Confederacy during the four years' strife, a man who never minced words and who was rather emphatic in his utterances, interposed and in a stentorian tone said, "I say all soldiers will steal!" He rolled his eyes fiercely at the spectators, but no one had the nerve to dispute with him.

"WILSON'S WISDOM WINS WITHOUT OUT WAR."

"Wilson's wisdom wins without war," is a very excellent slogan just adopted by the national democratic campaign committee. It was suggested by Mr. Geo. F. Bradley, of Washington, who is well known in this city. Mr. Bradley has the happy faculty of condensing much truth in few words.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

Dr. Charles W. P. Brock, 81, one of the most widely known surgeons of the South, a former president of the National Association of Railway Surgeons, and chief surgeon on the staff of Maj. Gen. James L. Kemper during the civil war, died in Richmond yesterday.

Virginia patriotic societies that hark back to the American Revolution were celebrating the one hundred and thirty-fifth anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown yesterday by displaying the American flag and with meetings last night at clubs.

Evidently thrown from a passing train, the body of a newly born infant was found beside the tracks of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, one mile east of Afton, Albemarle county, Tuesday. An examination showed that the child had been born Monday night. It weighed about nine pounds and its features were perfect. The coroner's jury returned a verdict "that the infant came to its death by being thrown far enough from the rain to break its right leg between the knee and the hip, and causing internal injuries from which it died through neglect and by bleeding to death." When found the body was wrapped in a pillow slip taken from the car.

Fire which originated in the sintering plant of the Virginia Smelting Company at West Norfolk early yesterday morning completely destroyed the sintering plant, all conveyors and bins and more than half of the chloridining plants.

SHE KNOWS HIM BY HIS WHISTLE

On His Way to Work Mr. Greene Goes Around Spreading Good News to His Many Friends

Mr. W. M. Greene, residing at 2211 Edward Avenue, Richmond, Va., is a young man who looks the picture of health and goes about his important duties as happy as one would wish. When called upon by a Tanlac representative he said: "I suffered from catarrh both of the head and stomach and was constantly bothered with gall stones or gravel. I had pains in my stomach that were so severe that I had to take hypodermic injections of opiate. I constantly expectorated. My wife always knew several minutes before I arrived home that I was coming because of my hawking and continual clearing of my throat.

"After taking only half a bottle of Tanlac, he said, "I am now feeling as well as I ever did in my life, and know that Tanlac used by anyone bothered with catarrh, kidney or liver trouble will certainly be benefited by a fair trial, I have bought several bottles for friends."

Instead of his wife hearing him come home hawking, spitting and clearing his throat she knows him by his happy whistle and song.

Tanlac the medicine that has proven in this and many other cases just what was needed, is now being sold by Leadbeater Drug Corporation Alexandria or G. T. Mankin and Co. Falls Church.

STATE WILL SAVE $300,000

Public Service Corporations to Pay Increase on New Assessments of Property

Public service corporations operating in Virginia will pay to the State in taxes for the year 1916 between $300,000 and $325,000 more than was paid by these companies for the year preceding. Of this increase $277,186.59 will be paid by steam railways.

The estimate as to the total increase in the State taxes of public-service companies was drawn yesterday by Clerk R. T. Wilson, of the State Corporation Commission, from an abridged statement issued by the commission, covering the new assessments of the properties of steam and electric railways and from other assessments in the course of completion.

The properties of steam railroads are valued this year at $133,353,453, as against a valuation of $127,297,501 in 1915. This enhancement, however, is negligible, from the standpoint of State revenue, in comparison with the enormous increases in gross transportation receipts upon which the State levies a tax of 1 1-4 per cent. Increased transportation receipts, together with the 1-8 per cent tax increase on this subject voted by the last General Assembly, will combine with the modest increase in property valuation to give the State taxes on steam railways aggregating $1,707,046 or $277,186 more than it received from this source in 1915.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Reginald M[illegible] the British [illegible] in the house of [illegible] criticisms of [illegible] terest payable [illegible] bonds and the [illegible] this would lead to their being largely held abroad said: "That is the very thing we desire. That means a prodigious amount to find every six days."

Short-measuring gasoline pumps, according to an investigation by the Federal bureau of standards, are mulcting motorists of millions of dollars a year. In Illinois alone the loss is not less than $500,000 a year. Tests in many cities have confirmed previous conclusions and actual tests of the types of pumps used by retailers in Washington have shown 80 per cent of them give short measure for various reasons. Some of them are faults of construction and others are susceptible to manipulation by the dealer.

"AMERICAN PERIL"

Europe Apprehensive of Combined German-American Attack.

Rome, Oct. 19. — The fear that America may build a vast navy is causing great worry to some of the European nations now at war.

It is argued that a larger American navy will oblige England to find a way to avoid being pinched at some future day between a German fleet and a United States fleet.

Prof. Pantaleoni, who holds the chair of political economy in the Rome University, in an article published in the monthly Vita Italiana, says:

"The birth of a new sea power of the first rank is inevitable, and as such must be considered by the allies as a most important political factor."

Obviously, he continues, the United States cannot be officially admitted to the peace conference, but account should be taken of its interests and desire. The only way to avoid the American peril is then to impose disarmament on Germany. Europe must not be exposed to a combined German-American attack.

These two nations have already worked together in Manchuria, where only the intervention of France and England compelled them to submit to the desires of Russia and Japan.

But with Germany permanently disarmed, Europe may hope to reach an agreement with the United States on commercial and marine matters. The United States must be linked to Europe by a generous agreement so well studied that there will be peace in the world for some time to come.

JAMAICA GINGER VICE

Topeka, Oct. 19—They'll bury Ed. Bennett in the potter's field. The funeral will be in the police station. Ed. Bennett died a drunkard's death. But he never tasted ordinary liquor. He was a friend of "Jick."

Jick is the police vernacular for Jamaica ginger. There are many friends of Jick in Kansas. They are broken and bent.

"It will be an example for others—to see those broken men, all victims of Jick, burying another victim," said Harvey Parsons, chief of police.

The Supreme Court has held that Jamaica ginger is an "old-fashioned remedy," and may be sold in Kansas. The police say it contains 90 per cent alcohol. Drug stores keep it on hand in fifteen-cent bottles. A bottle will insure a "drunk."

WOMAN KILLED.

Female Bootlegger Loses Her Life While in Battle With Men from Sheriff's Office.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 19 — News from Jamestown, in the Cumberland Mountains, near Kentucky line, received here, gives meager reports of a battle between bootleggers and a force under Sheriff J. F. Livingston, of Fentress county. The dead are: Mrs. Allen Huddleston and Schuyler Hicks, and the mortally wounded, Allen Huddleston and Clifton Beaty.

The Sheriff, who had a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Huddleston, charging her with bootlegging, encountered the party with a wagon load of liquor on the Rugby Road, en route to Ball Rock, where they are alleged to have been operating a blind tiger, and when he ordered them to surrender, instead they opened fire with rifles, slightly wounding Deputy Sherman Crabtree. The sheriff's party returned the fire with the result stated. Elam Huddleston, also of the bootlegging party, escaped to the mountains.

Further successes for the Russians in Turkish Armenia in the Kalkit region are reported in official war office announcement in Petrograd.

A business man who has selling ability. The man we want may be in the automobile business now; he may be in some other business; he may be a farmer; he may be retired.

Whoever he is or whatever may be his occupation, we want him if he can fulfill the conditions of our proposal.

We are in search of a real, live, wide-awake man, who has had business training, who has some capital, who can sell Maxwell Motor Cars.

We are represented in almost 3000 of the leading cities and towns of the United States, and our dealers are prosperous and happy.

They should be, and will continue to be, for the Maxwell Car is the unquestioned leader of its class.

It is a car for which there is a nation-wide and growing demand—because it represents more real value, dollar for dollar, than any other car in the world.

We have no dealer in this locality. We want one immediately. Our representative will call and explain the details of a very attractive proposition.

Anyone interested should inquire at once.

To All Democrats:

The undersigned were appointed by the National Democratic Committee as Auxiliary Finance Committee, for the City of Alexandria, and have received an urgent request that we call upon all Democrats to help the cause.

Alexandria Democrats have thus far done nothing.

We, therefore, call upon every democrat in Alexandria and surrounding country to send us such contribution as he or she can, whether large or small.

Send something, if only a few cents, and show your interest. We will thankfully receive any aid whether $100 or 10 cents.

Remember that this is a big country and that there are many close and doubtful states; and the National Committee must have large means to carry on a successful fight.

The Republicans have large interests that contribute to their overflowing treasury.

The Democrats must depend upon voluntary offerings, and mainly upon a great number of small ones, to make up their necessitous treasury. Send your contribution to any member of the Committee, and, whether it be large or small ,please send at once.

It is greatly needed.

This is a call to women as well as men.

Respectfully,
J. K. M. Norton,
Gardner L. Boothe,
Charles Bendheim,
William A. Sweeney,
Howard W. Smith,
Clinton Ballenger,
Thomas L. Fisher., 240-8t
